Hello library friends,

I am an audiobook enthusiast. Last week when my husband and I purchased a new-to-us car, I just couldn't get over how amazing it was to plug my phone into the car and listen to the story through the speakers. Best. Car. Ever.

I have always loved to listen to stories read out loud, even - or maybe especially - when I was a young struggling reader with an undiagnosed vision problem who didn't like reading. I remember coloring at my desk in 2nd grade listening to Mrs. (Sally) Howard read Little Witch by Anna Elizabeth Bennett to the class at Central Elementary School (now Chehalem Cultural Center). I remember doodling in middle school as Mrs. (Diane) Allen read us To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee, at Springbrook Middle School (now Mountain View Middle School). And I remember Mrs. (Polly) Peterson reading aloud poetry during my freshman year of high school while she gestured broadly with her hands, keeping us all entertained.

I still love being read to. While sometimes I listen to my husband as he reads the Lord of the Rings trilogy by JRR Tolkien to our kids (masterfully doing all the voices), most of the time it's audiobooks I've downloaded from the library's Libby, by Overdrive app.

I listen while I drive, while I work-out, while I do yard work, when I fold laundry, or do any of the not-so-glamorous household chores I don't really enjoy. I even listened to Terry Pratchett's Wee Free Men in the early stages of labor with my son and JK Rowling's Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone during dental surgery. I am soothed by stories I know well, and I'm endlessly curious about the stories I haven't heard yet. What are you listening to lately?

Did you know that in addition to audio CDs, the library offers Playaways, pre-loaded audiobooks that give you the portability and freedom to take audiobooks everywhere? You can also download ebooks and audiobooks with your Newberg Public Library card using Libby by Overdrive.

Happy listening!
